

A close-up, low-angle shot of the front and upper body of a blue and white Aprilia RS 660 motorcycle. The bike is positioned diagonally across the frame. The background is a solid, vibrant red. The motorcycle features a blue upper fairing with white and red accents, including a small Italian flag. The front fairing is white with a blue stripe. The headlight is a large, clear, multi-lens unit. The handlebars are black with silver grips. The engine and lower fairing are visible, showing a mix of blue, white, and red. The front wheel is a black alloy with a multi-spoke design, featuring red accents. A Brembo brake disc and caliper are visible. The overall aesthetic is sporty and aggressive.
